

Where do you want to go

What do you want to learn

MSAE can take you there

Among the member benefits of MSAE are the Education Programs, Bi-monthly meetings, Speakers Showcase and Meeting Planners Trade Show. At any one of these events you'll learn about topics affecting association management including:

- contracts & meeting site negotiations
- labor laws & personnel guidelines
- governance issues
- audits & board relations
- staff issues, motivations & rewards
- balancing business & personal life

In addition to great business meetings, MSAE hosts terrific social events like the annual FunFest Golf Tournament and Christmas party and much more.

What's even better is that these functions go to support the MSAE Foundation, which provides scholarships to Missouri students.

The mission of MSAE is to promote and support excellence and professionalism among association executives and to work diligently to increase the effectiveness, the image and the impact of associations as they serve their members and society.

We can take you to staff meetings equipped with the knowledge to lead your team. We can take you to board meetings prepared for budget discussions with your trustees. We can take you to the next level of your career with the resources to achieve your goals. We can take you to limitless possibilities for growth.

Benefits you can use immediately

MSAE can provide you with services to increase your knowledge and give you an invaluable professional edge — resources to help you and your association grow, including:

- Educational workshops and seminars
- Professional development opportunities
- Leadership programs

Other resources to give you a professional edge include:

- American Society of Association Executive (ASAE) membership through a state and national partnership
- Subscription to ASAE Association Management magazine
- Access to valuable information on www.asaenet.org
- Access to www.msae.net, where you can find other MSAE members, post resumes, find job openings and more.

Building effective relationships

MSAE membership will help you run your association efficiently, manage your regional or local components with greater ease and develop strong professional relationships. Best of all, you'll benefit by networking with other professionals from trade associations, volunteer organizations and other nonprofit associations. You'll also meet MSAE members who are in the business of providing products and services to the association community.

Join more than 400 members throughout Missouri who know. Let MSAE take you there.
